Remarkable Christmas Present.

Among the curious Christmas presents of this year will be one for a man of national reputation, which has been all year in the making.
Way last January the present was decided upon, and a friend of the prominent gentleman requested the Burrelle Press Clipping Bureau, of New York, to watch every paper in America, and to take up every item which appeared concerning the man.
The clipping bureau people followed instructions, and now present the history of one year in the life of this special man. The history ends just after election, and the 20,642 newspaper items found include everything from a three-line editorial mention to full-page illustrated stories. These have been mounted on 3,200 great sheets of Irish linen paper and bound into three massive volumes. At the head of each item is the name and date of paper clipped from, this information having been put in with a book typewriter. The words thus inserted amount to 153,852.
In actual time, a very strict record of which has been kept, the work has required sixty-four working days throughout the year, and has kept in employment during that time thirty people as readers, clippers, sorters, mounters and binders. Every newspaper of importance is represented.
This is merely a specimen of some of the unique orders which get into the Burrelle Press Clipping Bureau, for the extent to which clippings are desired by individuals and by business concerns seems to be remarkable.
There are many people in private as well as in public life who need press clippings and don't know it. It might be well for them to look up this man Burrelle, who is said to be so well known that a letter simply addressed "Burrelle, New York," will reach him with no delay.

STRATFORD HOTEL SOLD AT AUCTION

Valuable Petersburg Property Bid In for $30,500.

VETERANS TO GO TO REUNION

North Carolina Man Searching for His Lost Son.

Times-Dispatch Bureau.
109 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., April 22.
The Stratford Hotel, on Bollingbrook Street, the largest and one of the best equipped hostilities in the city, was sold publicly to-day, under a deed of trust, by T. Pannill's Sons, auctioneers, and as purchased by Samuel G. Wilson, of this city, on a bid of $30,500. There were three bids for the property, the first being $20,000. There was much interest in the sale, and many people gathered to witness it.
The Stratford was recently thoroughly equipped and refurbished at heavy cost. It is the successor of the old Bollingbrook Hotel, widely known to travelers long anterior and subsequent to the war, and about which cluster many interesting historical associations. The sale does not interrupt the patronage of the hotel.
Ready for the Reunion.
The delegates from A. P. Hill Camp, some twelve or fifteen in number, will leave for the Mobile reunion on Sunday evening, and they go with anticipations of a pleasant visit. The delegates will escort Mrs. Thomas B. MacIn, of this city, the matron appointed for the Virginia Division, United Confederate Veterans, and also Mrs. W. L. McGill, of this city, the matron appointed for the Virginia Division, Sons of Veterans.

Two Sudden Deaths.
Mrs. Mary Jane Blanks, wife of James B. Blanks, died suddenly at her home on South Sycamore Street this morning. She was a much beloved Christian woman, and widely known and esteemed in the community. She had long been in feeble health, but her death was altogether unexpected.
Mr. and Mrs. Blanks, who was Miss Farley, were married on the 4th of April, 1880, and on the 4th of this month they were to have celebrated their golden wedding anniversary. Invitations were sent out to friends to attend the wedding, but on account of the indisposition, they were recalled. In his bereavement Mr. Blanks has the warm sympathy of the community and of friends throughout the State. Mrs. Blanks is survived by her husband, one son, Walter D. Blanks, of Richmond, and two daughters, Mrs. Milford Woody and Miss Ruth Blanks, of this city.

CONTEMPT RULES ISSUED BY COURT

Wendenburg, Tenny and Pennell Ordered to Answer Charge by Mrs. Tenny's Lawyer.

RIGHT STORMY SESSION

Wendenburg Resents Royall's Accusation, and Says There's Nothing Wrong.

Rules for contempt were issued yesterday in the Chancery Court of the city of Richmond by Judge Grinnam, at the request of William L. Royall, counsel for Mrs. Emma S. Tenny, against her husband, George O. Tenny, president of the Atlantic Real Estate Company; his attorney, Louis O. Wendenburg, and William Pennell, or Pannell, of Norfolk, described as Tenny's "right hand man." The rules are returnable on Tuesday morning.
Mr. Royall alleges a conspiracy between Tenny, his counsel and Pannell to secure from John Goodenough Tyler, of Baltimore, under threats and promises, an affidavit which would prove injurious to Mrs. Tenny in the pending divorce proceedings. Mr. Royall says his charge on an affidavit given him by Tyler to the effect that Pannell and then Wendenburg went to Baltimore and urged him to make such a statement derogatory to the character of Mrs. Tenny.

Denies Wrongdoing.
Mr. Wendenburg admits having gone to Baltimore to see Tyler and having attempted to secure him as a witness in the case, but claims that the proceeding was entirely regular and that when he is given an opportunity to answer on Tuesday the contempt proceedings against both himself and his client will be dismissed.

The court proceedings yesterday were of a somewhat dramatic character, there being evidence of intense feeling between the attorneys, which more than once threatened to break into an open rupture. Judge Grinnam was calm and collected, his manner rather more than his formal statement serving to warn the lawyers that there must be no infringement on the dignity of the court.

Mr. Royall, who had made his charges in open court last Monday, had them in writing, in accordance with the court's instructions. He read the paper and the affidavit of Tyler, made a part of Mrs. Tenny's answer to her husband's cross bill in the divorce proceedings.

Mr. Wendenburg denounced the Royall attack as "infamous" and "unworthy of any reputable lawyer," whereupon Mr. Royall shook his fist at the lawyer in open court. In addition to the Tyler affidavit there are a number of letters and papers, all a part of the papers in the main suit for divorce, which now appears to have been sidetracked by the controversy between the attorneys and the charges of conspiracy made by Mrs. Tenny and her counsel against Tenny, Wendenburg and Pannell. Affidavits from Walter Sharp, of Norfolk, and Mrs. Aleda Tenny Bunch were made a part of the Royall charge.

Text of Court Order.
After hearing Mr. Royall at length the court entered the following formal order:
"Tenny vs. Tenny.
This day Mrs. Emma S. Tenny presented her petition to the court praying for a rule upon George O. Tenny, L. O. Wendenburg and William Pennell to show cause why they should not be published for contempt for matters and things set out and stated in said petition, upon reading which it is ordered that said George O. Tenny, L. O. Wendenburg and William Pennell show cause before this court Tuesday, April 26, 1910, at 10 o'clock A. M., why they should not be published for contempt for the matter said things set out in said petition.
"And it is further ordered that a copy of this order be served upon each of the above named parties."

Among the attorneys in the case, the belief was expressed that an effort would be made to break the accuracy of the Tyler affidavit. Tyler was at one time connected with the Gaiety Theatre, in this city, and is now a resident of Baltimore. Pannell, or Pannell, as his name is indiscriminately spelled, is said to be an employee of the Blittsville Company, located in Norfolk, and at present in Atlanta on business.
